To Whom It May Concern;

PQAS set our Quality management system about 2 years back that has helped Phoenix achieve increased efficiency and ensuring long term strategy was met. To supplement our competitiveness, PQAS were entrusted late last year with setting up systems to meet the requirements of ISO 14001 and AS 4801. Not only was the, the Integrated Management System set in less than 3 months and on the very 1st attempt, it completely reflects Phoenix practices and led the certifying body auditors to favourably comment on its thoroughness.

We at Phoenix can certainly attest to the quality services provided from PQAS. The real world business oriented approach not only provides the element of certification to which is required to give clients certainty but also provides a solid foundation for business growth which carries through the entire organisation.

Kind Regards,
